

Revox Control V255 Display Revox Control V255 Android Display

A dedicated touchscreen for your automation solution provides the perfect control interface for your environment. From security to lighting solutions, a dedicated visualization interface is essential in offering an intuitive and welcoming setting.

The new Revox Control Display V255 can be used as a dedicated in-wall control for Revox Multiuser/Multiroom solutions, the Revox M-Series and Revox Joy-Series. The Revox Control Display has a blocked system architecture for End Users so the panel starts automatically with the Revox Multiuser App. In the open Android version you're able to install all available android applications to control your multiroom audio system, lighting, your home control app etc. or use your favorite applications.

Both versions are based on industrial components:

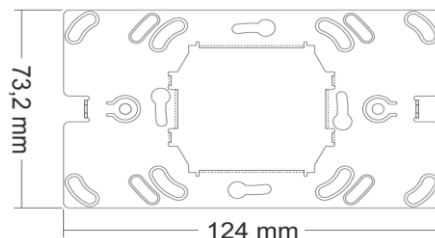

- High performance HD, IPS 5.5 "LCD, 1280x720
- microphone
- proximity sensor
- brightness sensor
- Dual Band 2.4GHz & 5.0GHz Wi-Fi 802.11 b / g / n
- PoE 802.3af

Delivered with a special Revox mounting plate for 1 and 2 UP unit recessed boxes compatible with all EU country standards. Suitable for retrofit market as a replacement for M217 / M218. For this replacement you can use the WLAN version for control without a network cable.
